

Job Description

Employee Title:	Research and Development Consultant
Department/Unit:	Research and Development Department/ SECC
Direct Manager's Title:	Research and Development Department Manager
Grade:	9

Job Purpose:

Provide technical consultation to ICT community in advanced software technologies

Job Accountabilities:

- Define ICT market needs and develop plans to deliver the required services that fulfill these needs.
- Provide consultation service in the advanced software technology fields.
- Participate in developing department offered services.
- Define, design, develop and test software applications and systems that support the department goals.
- Prepare training materials and conduct training services to customers.
- Develop technical knowledge assets and scientific papers.

Education:

- B.Sc. in Computer/Communication Engineering or Computer Science. M.Sc./PhD is a plus.

Required Experience:

- Experience in R&D in software development/engineering or related topics for at least 8 years.
- Practical experience in technical consultation.
- Evident experience in at least two of the following technical areas: Semantic Web, Big/Open/Linked Data, Software Architecture with focus on Service Oriented Architecture (SoA), Cloud Computing Architectures, Embedded Software with focus on IoT applications, Innovation Management.
- Experience in developing technical reports and research/scientific papers.
- Experience in development and delivery of technical training.

Required Skills:

- In-depth knowledge of main programming languages (C / C++, Java, python...)
- Practical knowledge of software development lifecycle, best practices, and standards
- Good project management skills (planning, measurement, monitoring...)
- Good training skills
- Good command of English